Hi, Cheri!

I can't believe the inside of this book is still free
of shreibut stains!
Wow! Anyway, it has been great having you in English with me
and being your friend.
(At least I don't squash things in your books!)
You're a sweet person
and a good friend.
Just find a new group to eat lunch with!

Love,

Cheri!
It is sooooo neat to sign your yearbook. But sometimes you can be sooooo mean and unfeeling. Maybe someday I won't hug you sooooo much. But I wouldn't hold my breath. Have a nice summer.

Cheri,
well last of our glory
days with Uncle Chuck.
It was a great year in Deutsche. Can't wait 'till next year. Have a great summer.

DUNDER,
WELL, IT'S BEEN QUITE A YEAR!
You know I'm only kidding
when I rag on you. Well, have a good summer and practice that horn!

Rich

Gee dere I feel sooo privileged to sign your ~~yearbook~~ ^(copy) annual.
German was so fulfilling it was ridiculous. You had fun to bug because you keep coming back for more (idiot, wiser) so get the hint. Anyway, have a very intellectual summer, I'm sure you won't find anything better to do.

Cheri,

It's too bad Mrs. Brock didn't give me the test for Impact. I really would've liked to have been in Chuck's class. We could have had so much ~~fun~~ fun.
 Wasn't riding the bus fun? (HA HA)

One Is Silver, The

Carl Cook pops in on his friends Renee Flagle and Judy Benjamin between classes.

Kim Knight listens attentively as Cindy Wannamaker tells her what happened last weekend.

Make new friends,
But keep the old,
One is silver,
And the other gold."

One of the most important parts of a student's high school career is his friends. Long after we graduate, the first thing we look back at is our friends. Sure, you remember your teachers and administrators, but friends are what make memories. Even though friends can go through rough times, true friends will usually become better friends. We remember many things simply because our friends were there. Memories, as well as good times, are what make friends so important to SMHS students.

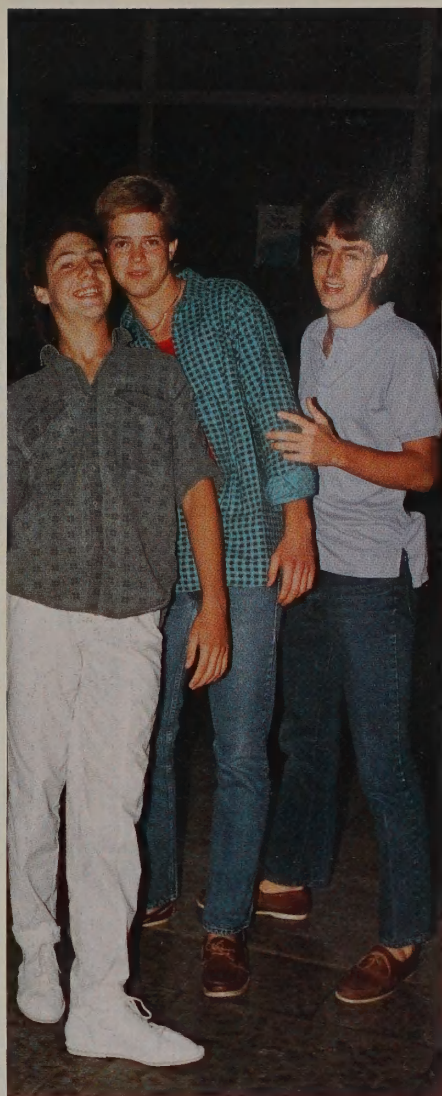

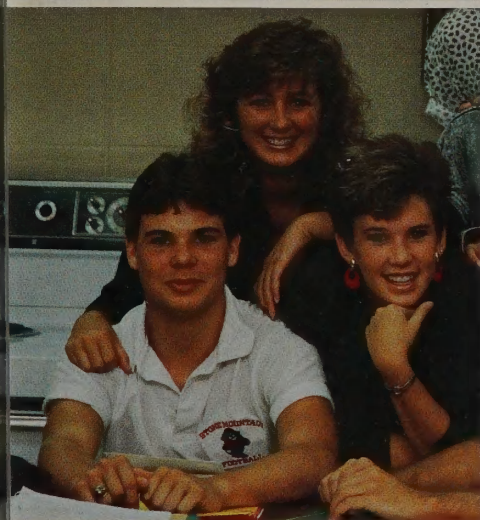

Steece Ginn restyles Coley Ray's hair before their next class.

Friends always have something to smile about.

Other

Just being together brings a smile to the faces of Gretchen Wohlust, Alan Collins, and Sue Sanders.

Gold

Mookie Hinton and Chris Chandler, how did you get Cam Ayer to smile for this picture?

Katie Kennedy and Tiffany Hopkins say "cheese".

This happy bunch manages to have some fun at school.

Kim Watson and Adrienne Burgess show their happiest faces after checking out!

A popular tradition still being practiced at Stone Mountain is the decoration of lockers.

Hurriedly applying her lipstick, Jennifer Weaver continues the tradition of SMHS girls looking their best.

These smiling faces exemplify the best that our school has to offer.

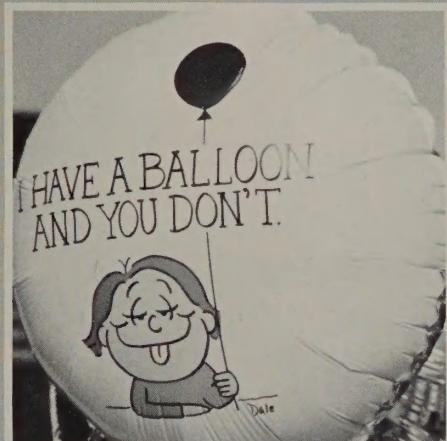

Golden Oldies

Even an orange push-up can be part of the "Pirate" tradition.

A popular way to send someone an important message is to say it with a balloon.

Traditions at The Rock — there are so many, where do you start? There are class traditions — seniors have their pranks, senior wills, senior rings, and the senior cruise. Juniors host our Homecoming B-B-Q and dance and that gala event, Prom with a capital 'P'. Sophomores go to Pizza Hut after the football games, and the freshmen glory in no longer being worms. But there are traditions at The Rock that are school wide, and though they are not always viewed as traditions, they are a very real part of life at SMH. Some of our not-so-traditional traditions include — ice cream!! How many of you juniors and seniors spent your entire eighth grade year eating ice cream for lunch because you were told that only nerds buy their lunch? Another tradition is balloon-giving — special friends give balloons to celebrate birthdays, offer congratulations, or just to say "have a 'smurfy' day!" Checking out is the ultimate in coolness, much to the consternation of our administrators, and decorating your locker is an absolute necessity. Sunglasses are whipped out for after school socializing and pep rallies. Aren't SMH traditions fun?

Perhaps one of the greatest traditions at our school is the senior ring.

Relationships

Brent Johnson and Danski Johnson enjoy a leisurely stroll to class, while Jenny Schuck looks on.

Every student at SMHS has been told that high school is a preparation for later life. This theory certainly holds true in relationships. There are many valuable things to be learned from a high school relationship.

Some couples seem to find "true love" in their high school years, while others date simply to have fun. But regardless of the reasoning behind the relationship, most students enjoy the security of a boyfriend or girlfriend.

A high school relationship is more than the cliched version of dating as portrayed in many teen-age movies. There is little comparable to the sense of comfort found in a companion. A boyfriend or girlfriend can be someone to share hopes, dreams, aspirations, worries, fears, insecurities, a blanket on a cold night, and even McDonald's french fries. Everyone enjoys the feeling obtained by being number one to someone.

As the high school graduate reflects back upon his teen-age years a smile will spread over his face as he recalls that special relationship. Regardless of how the relationship concluded, he will realize how much he learned about the dating world and see that these relationships are worth their weight in gold.

Worth

Karen Helms rests for a few minutes on Mike Wilkes' lap.

Kim Adams giggles as Greer Baughman tickles her ear.

Lisa Walston and Richard Barth contemplate this weekend's plans.

Their Weight In Gold

Holding hands is a romantic symbol of commitment at SMH.

Paige Acker and Chris Lewis show off their attachment to each other.

Eddie Bates and Mary Beth Norbury share a friendly good-bye.

Dyteya Lewis helps Kelvin Grice carry his books out of the pure kindness of her heart.

Melissa Wynn reads a note to a very attentive Jay Hammett.

Strikes Gold At SMII

Despite the fact that Stone Mountain's Class of '92 resides at a different campus from the rest of the student body, the Class of '92 is a definite part of the "Rock." They share more than our name. Stone Mountain II shares our facilities, such as the practice fields and our Pirate Pride.

Stone Mountain II has managed to maintain some of the "Rock's" traditions. For example, the eighth grade class is still a bunch of worms. The Alma Mater is the same, and, of course, red and white reign true at Stone Mountain II.

Stone Mountain II allows the eighth grade class to get acquainted with each other before the "worms" are thrown into the jungle of Stone Mountain High School. Strong friendships within the class are formed as a result, and good friends make entering the "Rock" a little bit easier.

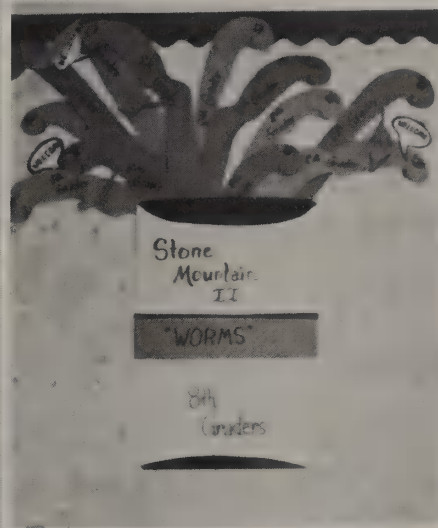

Indeed, Stone Mountain II is a part of Stone Mountain High School, and we are proud to have SMII under our wing!

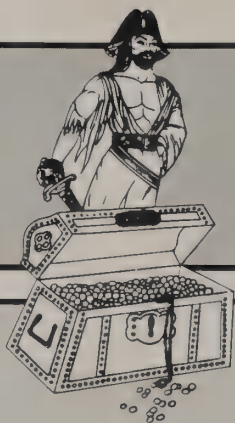

These eighth graders look like they are ready to take advantage of SMHS' golden opportunities.

The lunch period is a time for SMII students to become acquainted.

Eighth graders are traditionally known as worms.

These students look like they enjoy learning at SMII.

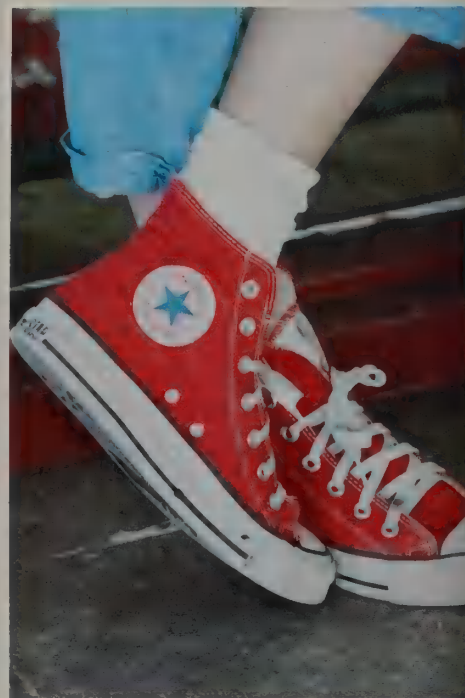

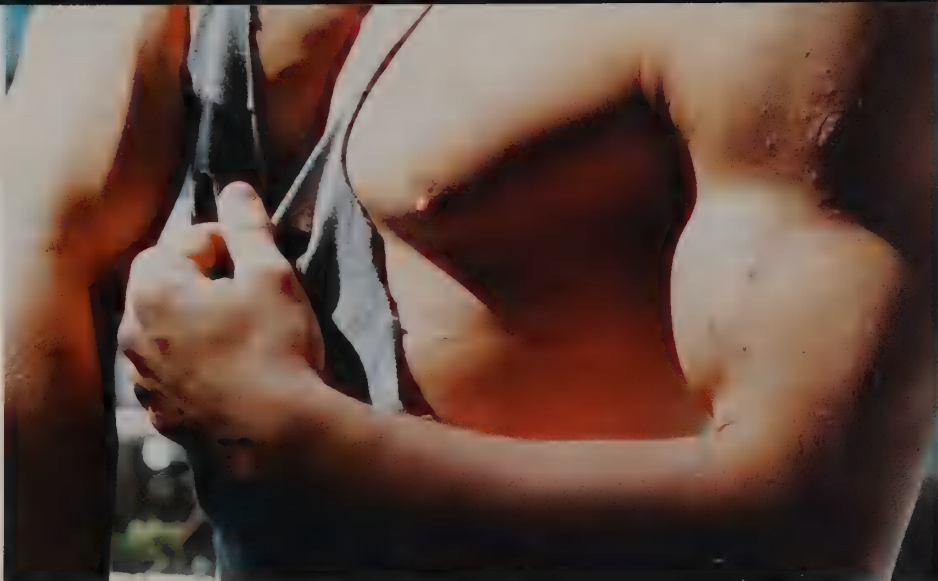

A walk down the halls or through the commons at Stone Mountain High tells it all — fads and fashion at The Rock vary for every life-style. During football season many football players sported an athletic variation of the mohawk, often designed in Stone Mountain's very own locker room. A fashion must this year was acid washed jeans — for guys or girls. The miniskirt also saw a comeback this year. And what was the trend in t-shirts in 1988? Spuds MacKenzie, of course.

For several years, a style of dress has been forming among the not-so-trendy individuals at SMH, and in 1988 this unique attire has hit full potential. "Modern" hair styles follow no guidelines, and as for clothes — well, anything goes. Some popular items are combat boots, leather jackets and bleached jeans. Unlike most current fads, the trick here is to wear what no one else is wearing.

Aside from all the new lines of fashion, some things will never go out of style. For instance, there is nothing passe about a man with muscles. In the way of clothing, on the other hand, favorite sweatshirts and faded blue-jeans will never become out-dated. And finally, what wardrobe is complete without a favorite pair of broken-in worn-out sneakers — Maybe even some Converse hightops.

Converse hightops aren't just for basketball anymore!

These boots are very popular at SMH.

Acid-washed jeans are a HOT item this year.

All That Glitters

This pair of jeans really makes heads turn.

Leslie Marbut models the latest in sweater fashions.

Originality dominates the wardrobes of Stephanie Salisbury and Tad Edmondson.

Dennis Bogumill contemplates how long it will take his hair to grow out.

Dwayne Wilson, Tiffany Hopkins, and John Riker enjoy spending Friday nights together working at McDonald's.

Karen Kurtz takes time out of her hectic job to pose for this picture.

Now we see a look of satisfaction as Chris Brown prices the stacked cans of Right Guard.

Chris Brown, why do you look so surprised? Aren't you stacking that deodorant correctly?

Earning The Gold

Danny Human proudly wears his Drug Emporium shopping cart nametag.

John Rogers takes orders from cars in the drive thru at McDonald's.

For many Stone Mountain students, after school jobs are a major part of their curriculum. Several students hold office jobs, while others work at Stone Mountain Park, movie theaters, various supermarkets and fast-food places. These jobs teach the value of money and the rewards of income. Students use their earnings to buy their cars, or clothes, compact disc players etc. These rewards for working are great, but we also keep in mind that school comes first.

Natalie Hickes masters the art of talking on the telephone and the radio at the same time.

Careful Lisa Bell, don't burn your hand.

Go For The Gold

Although fashion and fun are important parts of life at Stone Mountain, academics are the core of student activity. Students may feel that their extracurricular activities are more exciting, but their schoolwork is the basis for their future. The 1988 senior class rediscovered college brochures, as have many senior classes before them.

There are also those familiar feelings of rushing to finish homework before the first bell rings, sitting in class wondering if the bell will ever ring, and enjoying the moment when the last bell of the day rings.

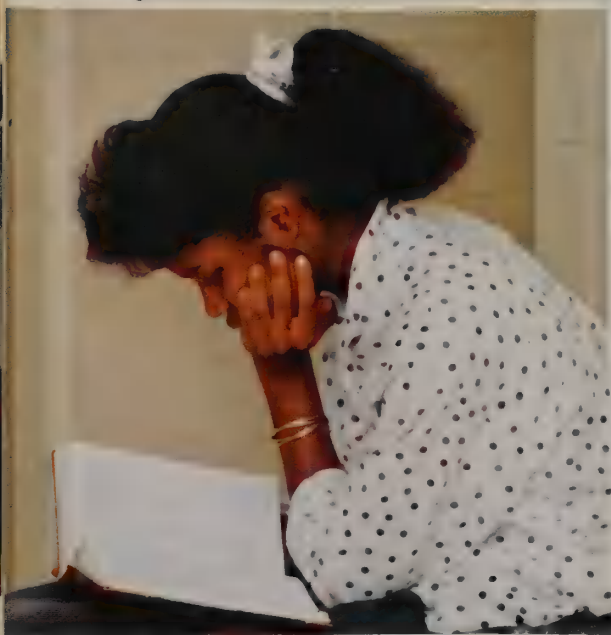

All in all, academics are a big part of everyday life at SMHS. Before school, during class, and instead of eating lunch students are seen dashing to complete undone homework. Sound familiar?

English seems boring to Mark Marcum with his 4.0 grade point average.

Ware Bedell practices his computer skills.

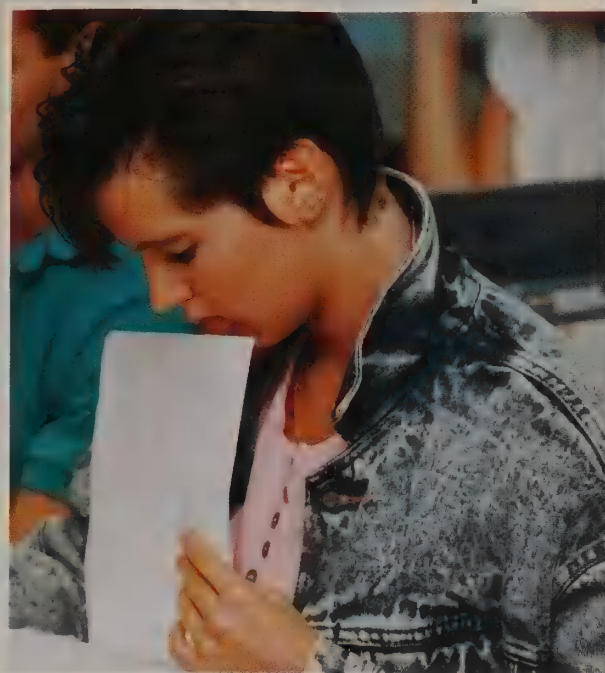

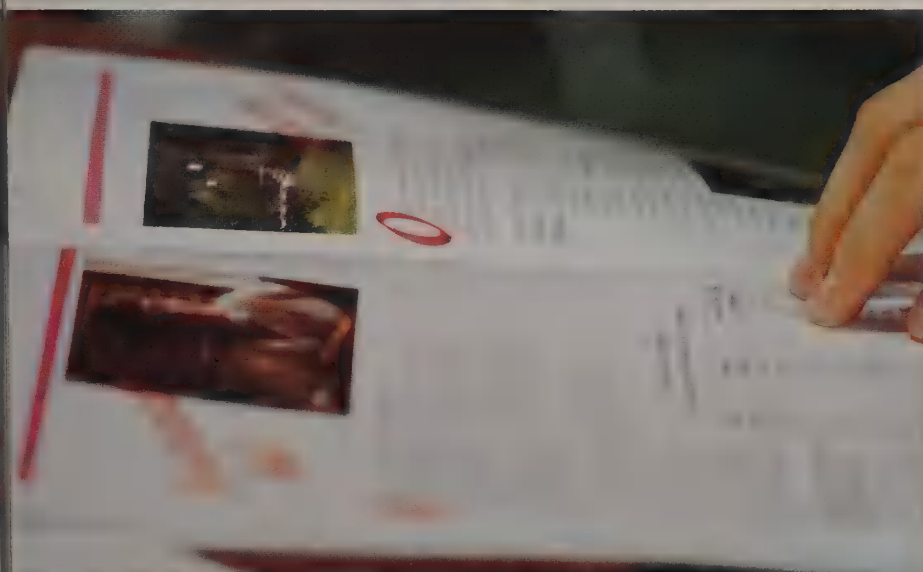

Erin Murray is fascinated by French class.

The hall is a quiet place for Christy Crenshaw to study.

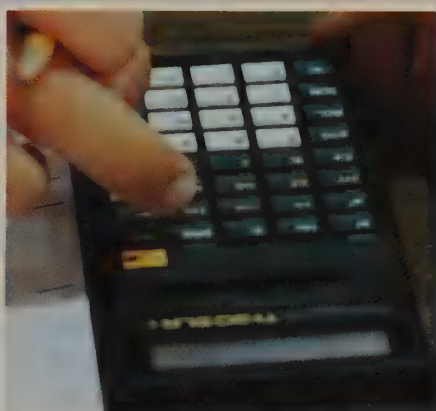

Joe Cronin and Russ Bell eagerly await the result of their experiment.

Christy Fain reviews her notes in class.

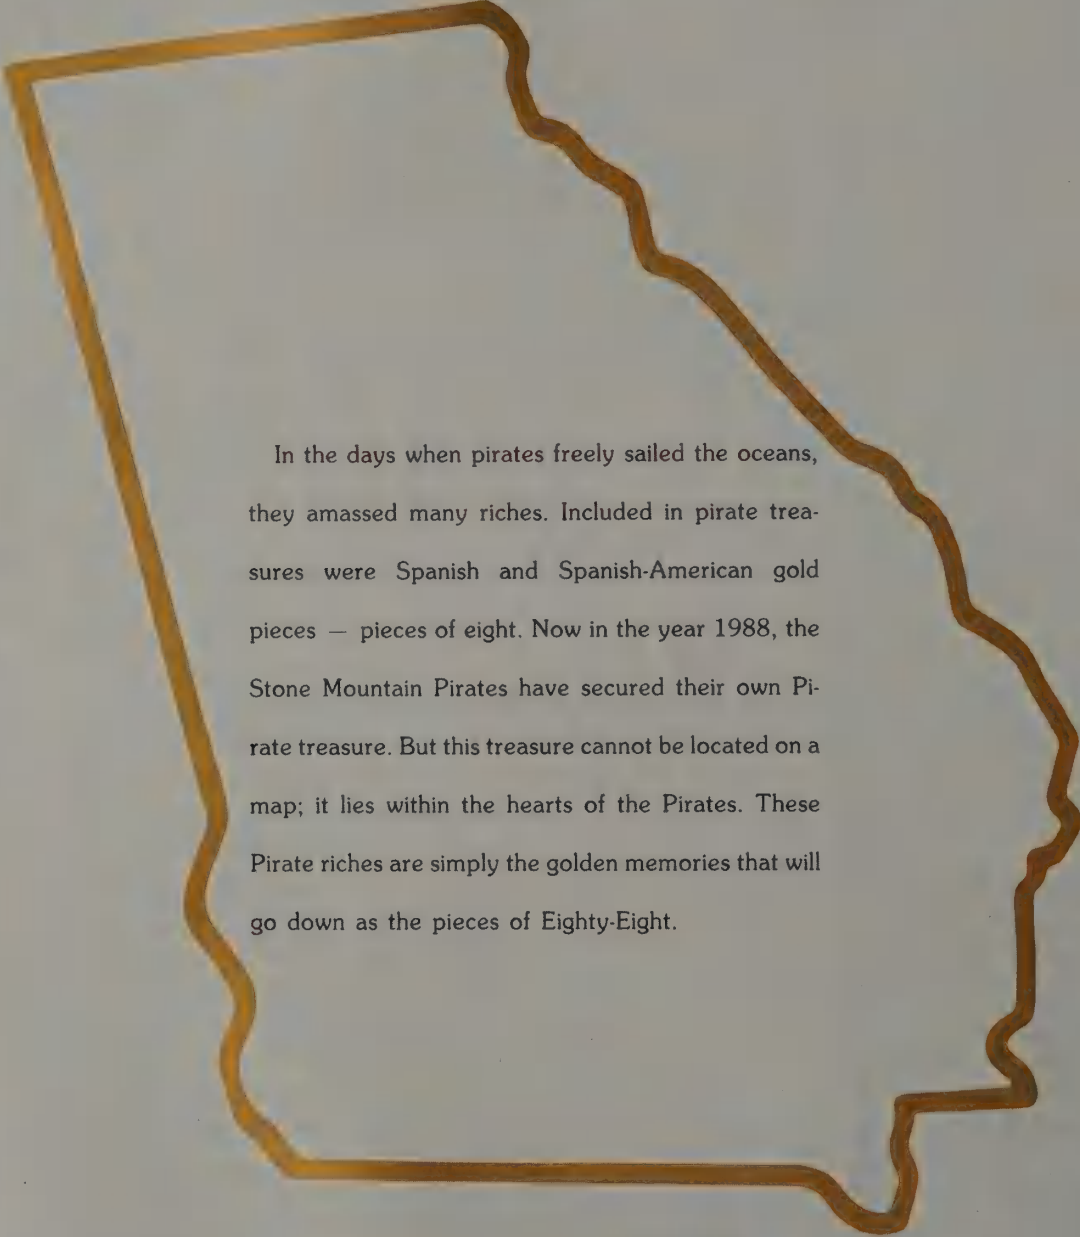

Browsing through college brochures is a new pastime for seniors.

A calculator is a math student's best friend.

Tony Rutherford hurries to finish his homework

Pieces Of Eight

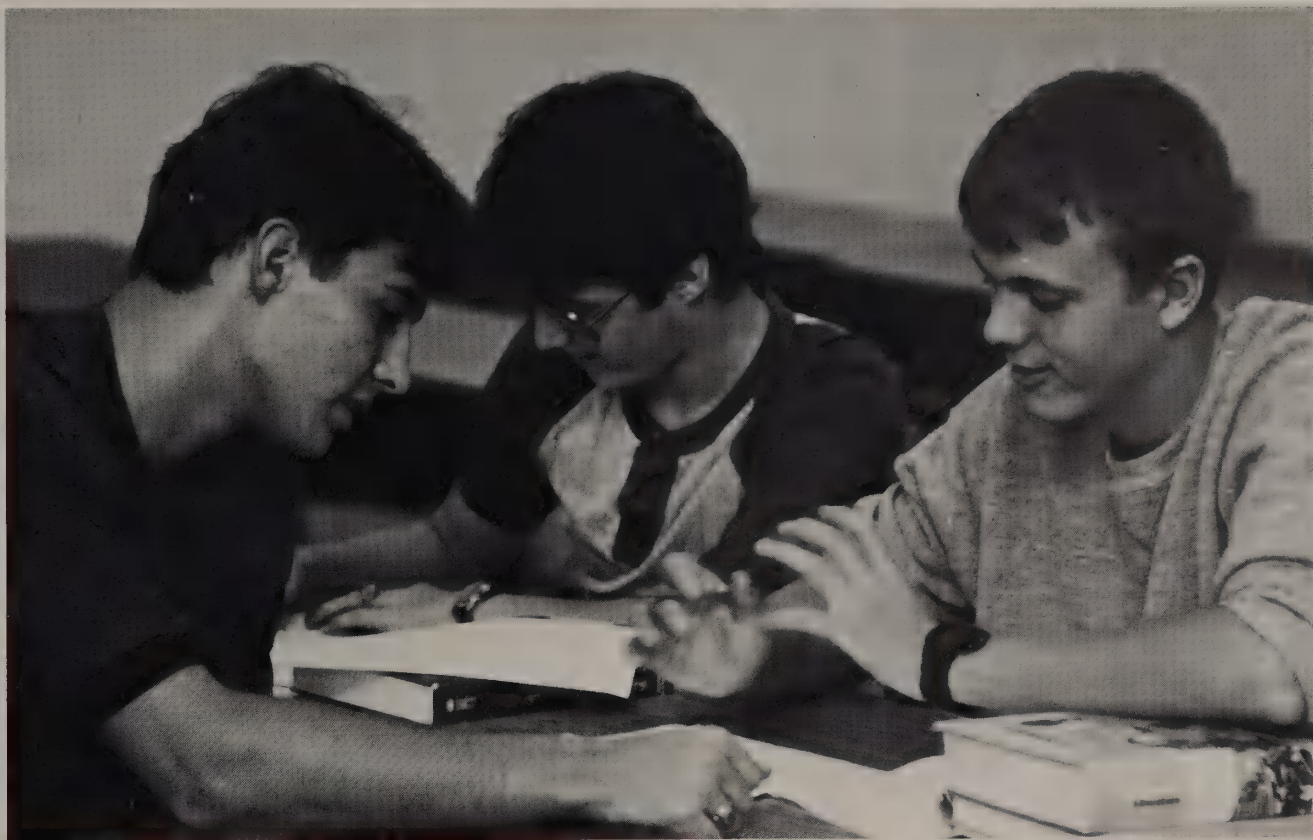

In the days when pirates freely sailed the oceans, they amassed many riches. Included in pirate treasures were Spanish and Spanish-American gold pieces — pieces of eight. Now in the year 1988, the Stone Mountain Pirates have secured their own Pirate treasure. But this treasure cannot be located on a map; it lies within the hearts of the Pirates. These Pirate riches are simply the golden memories that will go down as the pieces of Eighty-Eight.

tone Mountain High began the 1987-1988 school year with a new project to complete. This little gem was popularly known as the Ten-Year Study. Everyone at Stone Mountain High and quite a few other volunteers were involved. This study, made every ten years, is used by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS) to determine whether or not a school is continuing in a certain standard of excellence. If the results of a Ten-Year Study reveal a need for better instruction, the school may lose its accreditation and any diplomas delivered by the school would not be valid. Naturally, therefore, the study is of paramount importance to the entire staff as well as many students. SMH is confident that we "passed" the study with flying colors — with such a wonderful faculty and staff, how could we miss?

Dr. Lionberger, Dr. Anders, and Dr. Thompson feel very confident about the ability of SMH to retain accreditation.

Ms. Hursey is not only on a Ten-year study committee, but was also visited by a Quality Basic Education examiner this year.

Counselors And Registrar

The counselors and the registrar are an important part of handling students' schedules and activities. The counselors begin the summer with organizing nearly 2000 schedules for students in the fall quarter. When the students get here, they are quite busy with schedule changes. They also schedule students for the conference which covers the students' next academic year. Counselors also handle other activities. For example, Ms. Adams handles OEC, Ms. Jordan handles Joint Enrollment, Ms. Mears usually handles scholarship information, and Ms. Brock organizes the Peer Facilitators. As you can see, the counselors do a lot for students at SMH. The registrar, Ms. DeRock, registers new students, enters students' schedules into the master computer, processes report cards, and many other wonderful and fun things.

Ms. Mears talks to a student about his schedule.

Mrs. Brock looks for and examines the file of a student.

he DeKalb County driver education course is considered to be the most advanced and thorough driver education in the nation. It provides both modern teaching methods in classroom and laboratory experiences. In the classroom the students learn traffic laws and also how to avoid collisions. The student's grade is based on classroom tests; however, they still are required to pass driving tests and simulation tests. The simulation room is equipped with thirty simulators. Each resembles the dash and floor-board of a real car. Students react to films shown on a large screen and the simulators check their responses with the correct response for the situation. The driving range gives the students in-car experience in dealing with intersections, expressways with entrance and exit ramps, and parking areas with angled, parallel, and perpendicular spaces. The driving range can accommodate up to thirty students, each driving a radio controlled car.

The driving range is an excellent place for students to receive in-car experience.

At OEC, students have two class periods approximately two and a half hours each day. Most courses are two year courses, and students receive fifteen hours elective credit each quarter and a certificate upon completion of the course. The fifteen courses offered at OEC are:

Magnet School Program

The Foreign Language Magnet Program at the Kittredge Center for Gifted Children offers interested students the opportunity to learn the Japanese, Chinese, and Russian languages in Dekalb County. The magnet school is a special program that meets during third and fourth period of every school day. The students reach the magnet school by bus. Although the program absorbs two class periods per day, one year of the Magnet Program is worth two years of language credit. The program is open to 9-12 graders with a 2.7 or higher GPA. Stone Mountain High is proud to have representatives taking all three of the Magnet School languages.

Advanced Placement Program

The 1987-1988 school year was a banner year for students taking Advanced Placement (AP) classes. Stone Mountain High offered six advanced placement courses, a very high number. DeKalb County Schools are very lucky to be able to offer such fine programs for desiring students, as many counties in Georgia offer no AP classes, and few individual schools can offer as many as six.

Students take advanced placement classes for several reasons. They are offered first-rate coverage of great quantities of college material, preparing them for things to come. They are given points for passing on a five point scale, giving GPA's a great boost, and they are able to take AP Exams. AP Exams allow students who score a certain amount on the test to exempt College classes.

Some students take as many as three of the following: AP English, AP US History, AP European History, AP Calculus, AP Biology, and AP Chemistry.

Coach Bob Rumble gets excited about European History and Washington, D.C. Allison Theisen thinks that the Boer War could be well-named.

Teacher Of The Year

This year, SMH's Mrs. Mote received the honor of being teacher of the year for Dekalb County. "It's the highest honor I've ever received as a teacher," states Mrs. Mote. Mrs. Mote has been teaching at SMH for 15 years. At the beginning of the school year, Mrs. Mote was selected as SMH's teacher of the year, which put her in competition with the other schools in Dekalb County. She had to fill out an entry form which asked her questions about her educational background, her philosophy of teaching, her views on educational issues, school and community involvement, and her reasons for pursuing a career in teaching. Mrs. Mote didn't always want to be a teacher. She claims that she wanted to be a research microbiologist, but found that she liked working with young people as compared to working alone in a laboratory. Mrs. Mote states that, "The students at SMH are the best. They are friendly, hard working, energetic, motivated and interested in learning."

The Library: Checking Out

tone Mountain's library has always been a place of refuge from the noise in the classroom and the roar of the commons. The library is also a big help for upcoming reports because of its many sources. It contains thousands of books, microfiche, film projectors, and computers. Aside from all of this, the library is a good place for socializing and maybe some flirting. This may not help our grades, but it can decrease our level of boredom. All in all, the library is very beneficial to our school.

Excuses, Excuses . .

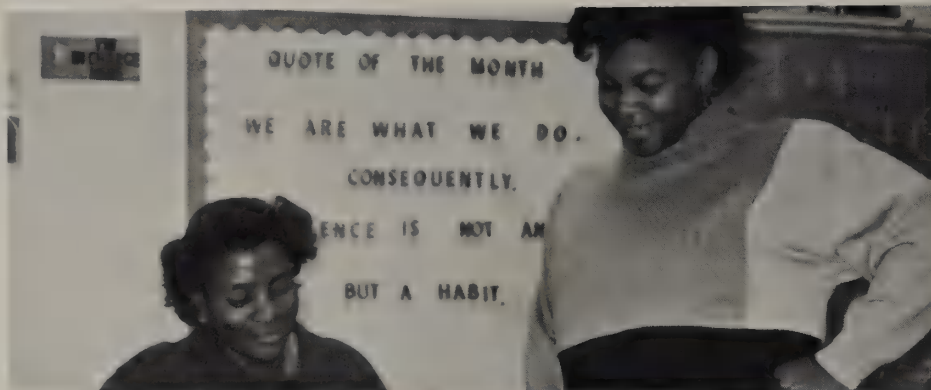

Of course, Stone Mountain students have excellent academic interests, but every once in a while we may falter and . . . forget to do our homework! This is when our ingenious ideas go to work and we make up fabulously innovative excuses. Although we are brilliant with our inventions, they don't always work. Sometimes we make our teachers a little bit angry. That's when we lower our grades and raise their blood pressures. On these two pages are a sampling of some of the favorite excuses from some of our favorite teachers!

Stone Mountain Goes On High-Q

For the first time, Stone Mountain High School students participated in the Channel 2 quiz show, High Q. The team qualified for the show by winning last year's Scholars Bowl and are now getting ready for this year's Bowl. One evening last December, Ruby Nagpal, Trina Slagle, John Reynolds, Erin Murray, and Ho Lin went to the WSB studio to tape the show. In the practice round, played before taping, Stone Mountain won! But when it came to the real thing, they lost to Westminster, 345-115.

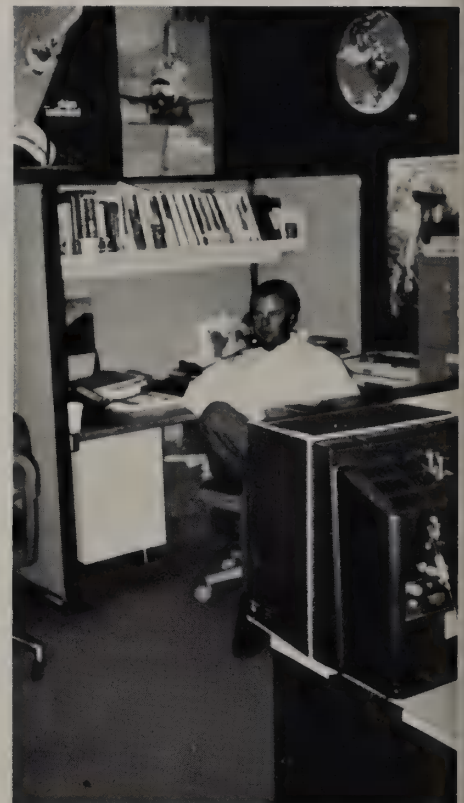

John Reynolds, Ruby Nagpal, Erin Murray, Ho Lin and Trina Slagle are the contestants.

Erin Murray and Ruby Nagpal are lucky to have met Glenn Burns.

Through hard work, Stone Mountain is in the lead in the preliminaries.

Glenn Burns stops to relax before a hard day's work.

Coach Flowe

The 1987 Stone Mountain football season was one plagued by many injuries and many disappointing losses. The Pirates finished the season with an overall record of three wins against Lithonia, Peachtree, and Washington, and seven losses. Their sub-region record was one win and three losses. The Most Valuable Player was Chris Corkery, the Most Valuable Lineman was Eddie Travelstead, and the Most Valuable Back was Anthony Carano. The Coach's Award went to Kevin Bixler and Brian Orr received the Will to Win Award. Chris Corkery and Mark Gilreath were voted team captains for the entire season.

CHEERLEADING

"My cheerleaders this year were the epitome of school spirit."
Mrs. Brenda Brewer

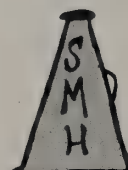

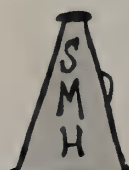

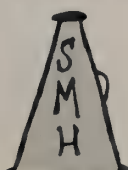

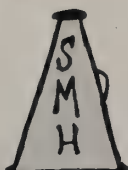

Although the football team had a disappointing season, the 1987 Varsity Football Cheerleaders contributed greatly to the overall spirit of the school. Not only did they practice daily on cheers and stunts, but they also found time to paint run-through signs and decorate the football players' locker room.

This year's squad was sponsored by Mrs. Brewer and the co-captains were Jennifer Cowles and Sue Sanders. Besides having a rewarding year, the cheerleaders had an outstanding summer. They went to two camps, Rainbow and NCA, where they were named best dancers, competed in the Award of Excellence, and received superior ratings. Also, at NCA camp two cheerleaders, Steece Ginn and Jennifer Weaver, were nominated for All-American Cheerleader.

Throughout the season, the Varsity Cheerleaders fired up the school by creating exciting pep rallies. They performed two dances, one being a role-reversal where the cheerleaders wore football jerseys and acted out a game in slow-motion. These pep rallies really contributed to the spirit of the student body as well as the football team.

CHEERLEADING

This year twelve eighth grade girls participated in eighth grade football cheerleading — a long-standing high school tradition. Mrs. Tench sponsored the eighth grade squad; thus, she helped to boost spirit and morale at Stone Mountain II. The captains for the 1987 football cheerleading squad were Kelly Steele and Stacey Meyers. Together, they prompted their squad to achieve not only in cheering, but also in other efforts such as fundraising. They were indeed a successful squad!

Pirates Draw A Crowd

C R O W D S

Students at SMH are always eager to gather to support the athletic teams. Crowds play an important role in raising the morale of teams and individual players. A group of fans may give a player that extra push he needs to cross the finish line. Many athletes agree that without the crowd support, there wouldn't be a game. Undoubtedly, crowd support is a vital part of the Pirate spirit.

1. Matt King, Shannon Deaton, and Kelly Brandon say Pirates are #1! 2. Sheri Boritz joins in the crowd while yelling at the pep rally. 3. This group of friends take a break from the basketball game to pose for the camera. 4. Seniors are unmoved by GTA charges. 5. Tara Majewski and Mark Mixon enjoy the pep rally together. 6. Jason Anderson seems to be the only one that has spirit at the moment. 7. Sophomores show their own form of dancing. 8. Tallah Willis shakes her pom-pom to show her spirit.

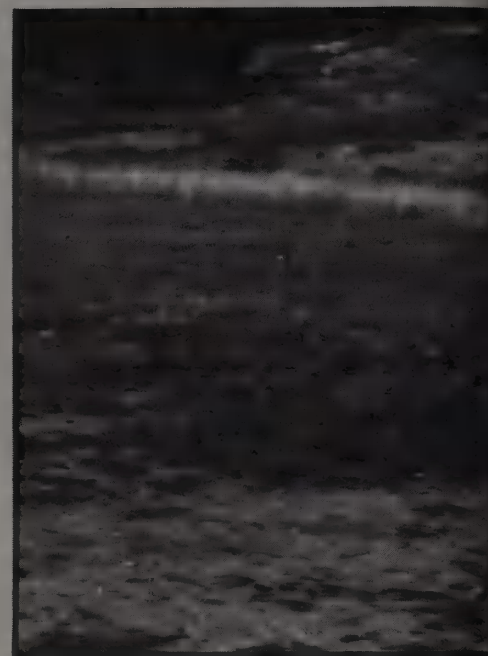

"We Could Have Had One Of The Top Teams In The Country."

Coach Hughes

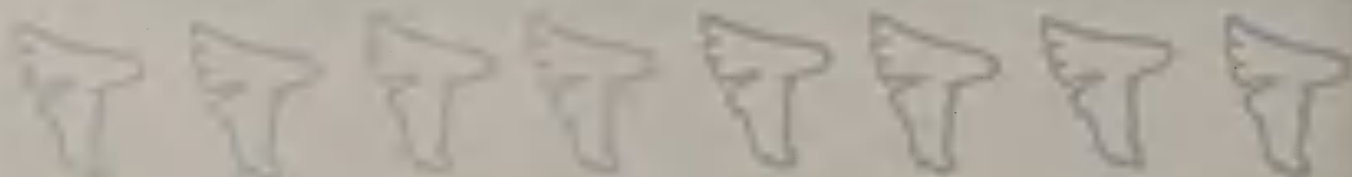

This year's cross country team had an outstanding season, with the Varsity finishing 19-9 and B-Team finishing 20-4. In the county meet, Varsity placed seventh and B-Team placed fourth. Coach Hughes proved to be an excellent coach for the team, led by Ricky Carswell, Mark Bracewell, Steve Adams, David Drury, Rob Peterson, and James Clay. This year's Most Valuable Varsity Runners were senior Ricky Carswell and junior Stacie Reid. Freshman Matt Frick earned the B-Team Most Valuable Runner award. Other awards went to: James Clay, Most Improved; Nicole Foster, Pirate Award; Rob Brown, Coach's Award. Coach Hughes was very pleased with his runners.

Coach Mike Hughes was the leader of the 1987-88 Varsity Boys Basketball team. They had a frustrating year with only three wins out of twenty-one games. The team was headed by two senior starters, Mark Mixon and Lorenzo Almond. The team's losing record didn't diminish any of their fans' spirit. This was shown when the Stone Mountain Pirates had the loudest cheering section at each and every game.

Coach Parker

BASKETBALL

The Varsity Girls Basketball Team of 1987 had a rather disappointing season, failing to perform as well as teams have in the past. About a third of the team was made up of seniors while the majority of the team was underclassmen. With the practice and experience they gained this year, most of the team will be able to return next year with improved skills. Coach Parker observed that the lack of teamwork caused the team to "beat itself before other people have an opportunity to." He added that, "we haven't played as good of defense as we have in the past." Hopefully, the team will be able to work together as a unit next year and produce a winning season.

Jenny Schuck won't be beaten by the opponents who surround her. 5. The team defies gravity with their excitement over a win.

"Tough Luck Plagued Us This Year"

Ryan Majewski

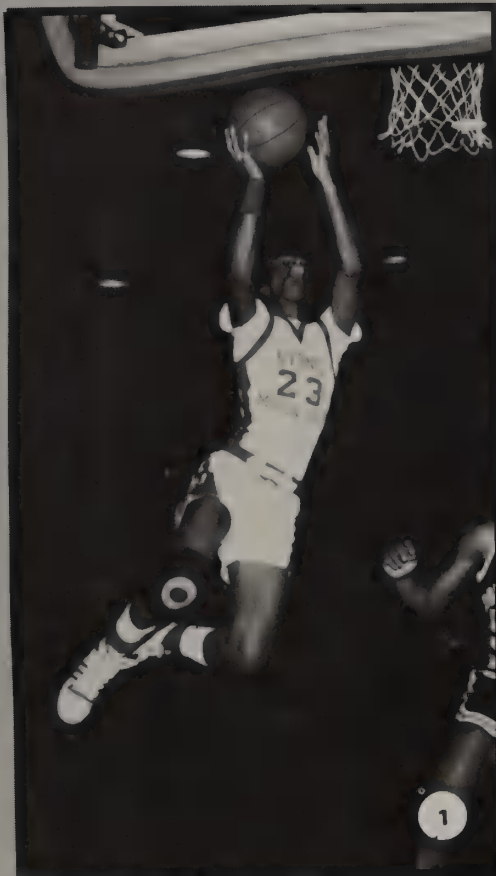

BASKETBALL

After losing three of the five starters, two to Varsity and one to injury, the B-team Boys Basketball team fell a little short on wins. They were coached by Mr. Buckelew and the team's leading scorers were Brian Theisen, Rafael Gutierrez, Steve Iverson, and Ryan Majewski. The overall consensus of the players is that the team will be a lot better next year when they've had more experience.

1. Kevin Pace shoots the layup for two points.
2. Rafael Gutierrez struggles to retain the basketball from opposing players.
3. Brian Theisen prepares to shoot.

Jennifer Heitjan

The 1987-1988 B-team Girls Basketball Team had a rather disappointing season. The girls did their best but were unable to overcome other DeKalb County teams in eight of their thirteen games. This record was alleviated by four wins and one tied game. The benched B-team, led by Coach Nita Anderson, hope to improve on this record next year — and the rest of the Stone Mountain Pirates will be rooting them on all the way.

1. Jennifer Earl struggles to retrieve the basketball. 2. Valerie Thompson shows her skill in free throw shooting. 3. Jennifer Earl looks shocked to see the basketball goal behind her.

"Small, But Very Aggressive"

Coach Schwak

BASKETBALL

This season the eighth grade team showed a lot of talent and worked together extremely well. Coach Schwak emphasized that although his team was "smaller than most teams," his had lots of steals, hustles, and teamwork. Next year's B-Team will be gaining many outstanding players.

1. Dexter Stallworth fights off his opponent to score for his team. 2. David Gouge's perfect form allows him to score a foul shot. 3. Scott Ginn, don't you know you're playing basketball, not soccer?

Coach Levie felt that the losing record his girls acquired did not accurately portray their ability. For instance, three games were lost by only one point. All 14 girls did a great job in their first year playing for the high school, and they worked "extremely hard," according to Coach Levie. He added optimistically, "they'll be good players in the long haul."

1. Gail Byrne beats the other team to steal the ball. 2. Kelly Spake isn't intimidated by the opponents as she takes the ball down the court. 3. Tricia Sonnen executes a beautiful layup.

WRESTLING

The Varsity Grapplers finished the regular season with an impressive 10-3 mark. The outstanding performances by Chris Janssen, Tim Malone, Patrick Moomaw, Ricky Long, Scott Ross and Kevin Bixler paced the team to a tie for second place in the county tournament. Everyone was competitive during the year. The team graduates County Champion Scott Ross, Runner Up Patrick Moomaw, and Fourth Place Finisher Ricky Long. The Varsity will return many impressive juniors and sophomores next year.

1. Scott Machaby and Chuck Davis work hard at practice. 2. Scott Machaby seems to enjoy pinning Kevin Bixler. 3. Ricky Long contemplates how to beat his opponent. 4. Last year's boys track team was coached by Coach Medlin (Varsity), and Coach Hughes (B-team). The teams did not have an outstanding year, but with the active competition and team spirit, they did enjoy themselves. The field events, such as high jump, pole vault, and long jump were great assets to the final score at various meets. Last year's B-team girls track team was coached by Ms. Beyer. They had a record of 1-6, but Ms. Beyer said the reason for this was the lack of experience on the team. The B-team consisted mostly of eighth graders, and the team is used to train girls for the Varsity level.

Ms. Anderson coached the Varsity team last year. They ended with a season of 1 and 6. This was a disappointment to the girls, but they did have some of the team place in the County meet. There were several awards given: Most Valuable Runner and Academic went to Nicole Foster, Most Valuable in the Field went to Tina Hagan, and the Coaches Awards went to Symica Gilkey and Caroline Duckworth.

"The Best Baseball Team I've Ever Coached. They Were America's B-team." Coach Willingham

The B-team Pirates went undefeated in the '86-'87 baseball season. This was the first time in the history of SMHS for the B-team to go without a loss. The B-team was coached by Tom Willingham who said that there wasn't one outstanding player, but rather the whole team was. Describing the team as a whole, Coach Willingham said, "They were the best team I have ever coached."

1. Mark Buffington hits a home run to win the game. 2. Ed Autry pitches for the B-team.

The Boys Tennis Team ended the season with four wins, six losses; while the Girls Team finished with a 3-7 record. After struggling through the season, the boys played fourth in the region tournament with an excellent showing. Brad Carlson went all the way to the finals before being defeated. John Lin and doubles team Geoff Evans and Ho Lin were defeated in the quarterfinals. The girls did equally well, with each girl advancing to the quarterfinals. The MVPs were Brad Carlson and Debbie Sasso, Pirate Awards went to David and Ainsley Amundsen. The Coach's Awards were won by Ho Lin and Missy Jersawitz. Miss Stallings did an excellent job in her first year of coaching the team.

The 1986-1987 gymnastics team had a winning season with a record of four wins and three losses. The team also received eighth place in the area competition. The team's sponsor, Laura Charlesworth from Jolly Elementary, volunteered that the team had to adjust to her because she was new. They also had to overcome the injuries the team members underwent, but the year was still a successful one.

Practice Makes Perfect!

PRACTICE

Practice is important in maintaining almost all successful athletic teams. Hours after hours each week are devoted to going over plays, drills, or just conditioning. At SMH we do our best to prove that practice does make perfect!

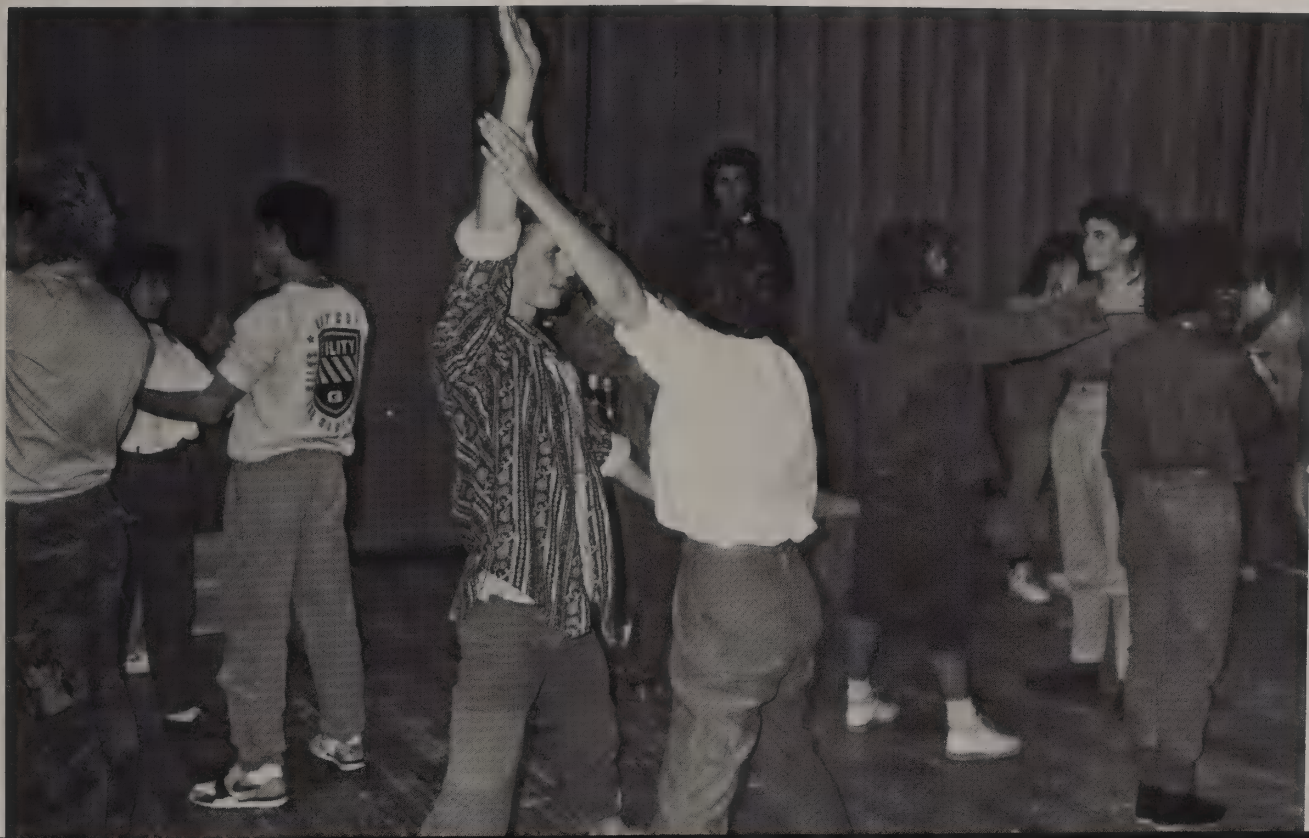

1. The B-team girls' basketball team listens attentively as Ms. Anderson explains the drill. 2. Shawn Lucas works hard on improving his putting skills. 3. Laurie Fischer can even look cool while practicing her forehand. 4. Shari Misceovich shows how practice has paid off on the beam. 5. Brian Hollowell shows off at practice by pinning Michael Travelstead. 6. After school in the weight room is vital to many sports in their off season.

GALLEON STAFF

Under the direction of Mr. Rosinger, the Galleon Staff produces an award-winning newspaper. The Galleon received first place from the Georgia Scholastic Press Association, first place from the Southern Press Institute, and second place at the Georgia State University Journalism Workshop last year. The many features of the newspaper include opinion columns, personals, concert reviews, and sports. Editor-in-chief, Andy Jordan, says that the main intention of the newspaper staff is to "honestly present a unique perspective of issues and events in our school and community."

DRAMA CLUB

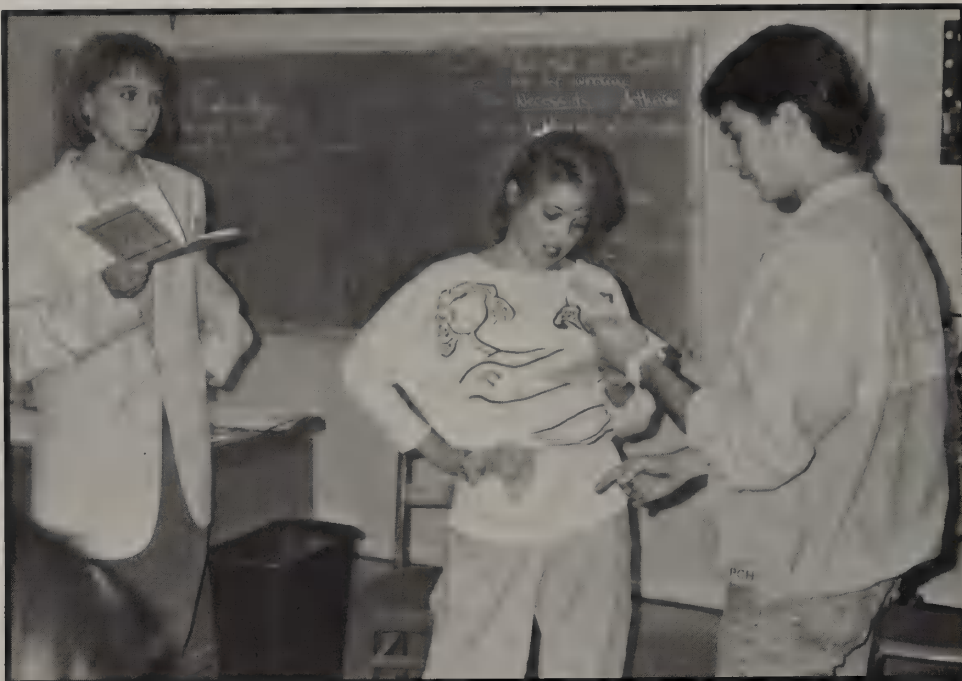

Every year the Drama Club presents several plays at SMH. This year, for the second year in a row, one of these plays won first place in the Regional 7-AAAA One-Act play competition. The play, Agnes of God, starred Jennifer Deaton, Kirsten Polentz, and Dana Laurino. The club itself is headed by Mr. Rosinger, and it meets monthly for the members to work on such acting skills as role playing, sensory recall, and voice work. They have also put on several other plays this year. For instance, the club produced a Christmas program for the Children's Theatre, Merry Christmas Charlie Brown, and a play that began in January, Arsenic and Old Lace.

Impressions is a literary magazine produced by SMH every year to highlight the writing, artistic, and photographic abilities of the students. The Impressions staff is made up of anyone who is willing to work extra hours reading what is submitted and judging the pictures and artwork that come with it. The staff's main goal this year is to produce a first-rate magazine that will do well in the Georgia Scholastic Press Association's competition. The club's editor is Erin Murray, and she offered information about the "write-offs" the club sponsors. Students are invited to a brainstorming session before which refreshments are offered. The staff worked hard this year and were rewarded with the knowledge that they produced a first-rate magazine.

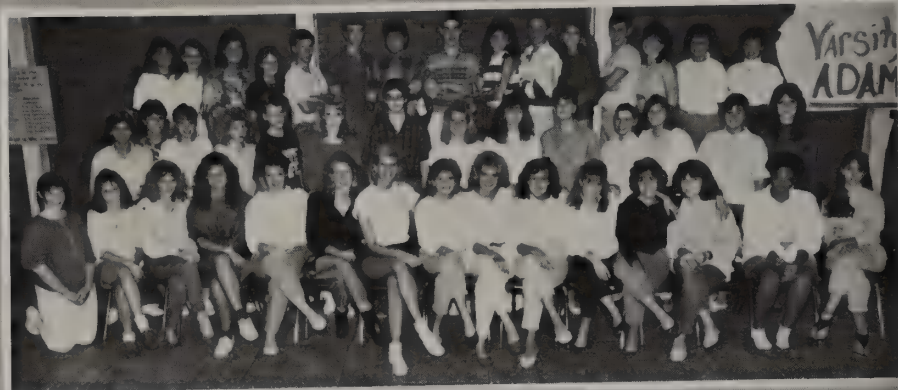

IMPRESSIONS

Junior Civitan displays their accomplishments from Civitan Camp.

Sponsored by Mrs. Tufo, Junior Civitan continued to achieve their goal of helping charities. They visited nursing homes, raised money for the Special Olympics, and bowled for cystic fibrosis. They also supported a camp, "Big Heart" which is for handicapped individuals. Their efforts to support the Special Olympics were rewarded with a silver medal.

Beginning with Registration Day, and continuing through the school year, the Peer Facilitators helped new students, the Special Education Department, and students who speak English as a second language. They tutored kids who needed an extra push in algebra or chemistry, while showing new students SMHS's facilities. Sponsored by Mrs. Brock, the peer facilitators met every two weeks to discuss various methods to counsel peers, tutor students, and generally lend a helping hand.

Members of Arrive Alive listen intently during a fund-drive meeting.

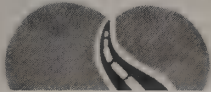

Success came quickly for the newly-founded Arrive Alive organization at Stone Mountain. Over one hundred students turned out for the meetings to discuss the cons of drinking and driving. Arrive Alive's main goal was to promote alcohol and drug free parties. Guest speakers at the monthly meetings help to drive home the painful consequences of driving while intoxicated. Throughout the year the organization members helped the district offices organize alcohol awareness programs. The inspirational force behind Arrive Alive was Mrs. Staub, also new to the organization, who enlisted her help and support.

Corsair Staff

The '87-'88 Corsair staff's main purpose was to produce the best possible yearbook for SMH students. Yearbook was a class held during fourth period. Several of the staff jobs were to take pictures, identify names, design lay outs, make special trips to SM II, and promote and sell the yearbook. A few of the staff attended a yearbook workshop earlier in the summer. Most of the staff agreed that working on the yearbook was an exhilarating experience and a lot of fun; but it was also hard work. The common feelings of the staff can be expressed by this quote from Melanie McRae and Jennifer Weaver: "We hate deadlines!" The staff felt that they could not have produced a more complete annual without the support of their sponsor, Mrs. Hursey.

The Junior Beta was really enthusiastic about getting involved in community and school projects. During the Christmas season the club did the adopt-a-child, and during Thanksgiving they helped a needy family. Throughout the year the Junior Beta Club did favors for the teachers such as decorating the teachers' lounge on Halloween. Their sponsor Mrs. Mote said of this year's Junior Beta, "They're smaller than last year's group, but these kids are really great."

STUDENT COUNCIL

The 1987-88 school year carried an active agenda for the members of the Stone Mountain Student Council and their sponsors Mrs. Cain and Miss Cobb. They were particularly honored to be the coordinator for the fourth district of Georgia. Another success the Student Council enjoyed was having several members elected to the Honor Council for outstanding leadership during the summer convention at Berry College.

As usual, the Council provided their service to the community. They raised money for the Empty Stocking Fund to buy gifts for needy children. They also gave parties at Trinity Day Care for housing project kids.

Besides receiving honors and helping the community, the Student Council was naturally involved with activities at Stone Mountain High School. They were responsible for the school store which sells school supplies at discount prices. They were also in charge of organizing the Powder Puff Football game. But the task that Student Council will be most appreciated for was the sponsoring of the many dances they held throughout the year.

MARCHING BAND

This year's marching band was very active under the leadership of Director Melvin Hodges. Among many performances the band participated in was the DeKalb County Band Exhibition. They also performed in Daytona Beach and received 8 superiors, 3 excellents, and 1 overall award. In the Rockdale Festival they also received several awards. Varsity Drill Team, sponsored by Ms. Fearing, received a rating of superior and performed for Georgia Tech's first game. They also went to a week-long camp at Georgia Tech. The majorettes, led by the experience of Donna Sampler, also performed well with the band. The B-Team Drill Team, sponsored by Mrs. Glover, was judged as Excellent in competition. The spectacular Band and stunning Drill Team dazzled us each week with performances at both the games and our pep rallies.

JAZZ

Mr. Hodges was in the process of rebuilding his Jazz Band this year, following the graduation of 40% of the Jazz students last year. However, he added that with the talent of this year's students, they were learning fast. The Jazz Band gave several outstanding performances, such as at the Fernbank Dinosaur Program. The level of performance by the students was very professional. A great deal of preparation went into the University of Georgia Spring Competition. This year Stone Mountain's Jazz Band defended its championship from the U.G.A. competition for the ninth year in a row — an unprecedented feat! Mr. Hodges claimed he was "very proud of the tremendous sacrifices by his students" which resulted in an incredible year for the Jazz Band.

The school's Orchestra received a valuable addition this year in Mrs. Sparkman, the sponsor and teacher. She came to Stone Mountain High for one class a day to teach strings and music theory. The Orchestra was involved with DeKalb General Hospital in the Adopt-A-School Program and by playing for the DeKalb General Volunteers. Mrs. Sparkman also organized the group for performances at Cornerstone Baptist Occasional Concert and at the District IV Christmas Concert Festival. Melissa Wynn commented that the "festival is a self-competition." The Orchestra sponsor certainly inspired her students to perform well, and Jennifer Joos was rated All-Star Cello.

CHORUS

The Chorus has been very active this year, participating in productions at the Presidential Carter Center and the DeKalb General Hospital Tree Lighting Ceremony. They also went to Northlake Mall to sing for the holidays. Mrs. Swett, the choral sponsor, has gotten the Chorus involved in many activities. Last year, her first year at this school, she gave her students the opportunity of attending the Daytona Music Festival along with the Band. This event was a first for the Chorus, and they succeeded in being awarded several trophies. This year is the second year the Chorus plans to attend this Festival. Mrs. Swett has also formed a small show chorus this year using selected members of the Stone Mtn. High Chorus.

SCIENCE CLUB

This bulletin provides a friendly reminder of important dates for Science Team members.

When asked what the Science Club objectives for 1988 were, sponsor Mr. Buckelew replied, "to have fun." The club with its over 80 members did just that. The main excursion planned was the trip to Washington, D.C., in the spring where members could visit the Smithsonian Institute. The club also planned to visit the Okefenokee Swamp, Vogtle Nuclear Power Plant in Georgia, and Mammoth Cave in Kentucky.

Joe Delekto is probably doodling "I love Science" instead of concentrating on his English.

The event that the Science Team prepared for all year was the Science Olympiad. The close to 50 members worked hard to top last year's Science Team which placed tenth in the Olympiad, thanks to strong showings by Russ Bell and Joe Delekto. Russ and Joe placed first in Regional and second in State for computer programming. Russ also placed third in Regional and second in State in the category of periodic table. Also, Mike Abney won third place for topographic mapping.

The varsity math team had another great year. They received second place in their first meet. A lot of work and dedication was needed to be on the math team. The team met every Tuesday at 7:30 starting in September. It might have been hard, but this year's sponsor, Mr. Hatch, helped them through.

Erin Murray thinks about an upcoming meet.

This Year's B-Team Math Team had a good year. In their first meet they placed second. They were only two points away from first. This year's sponsor, Coach Creed, helped the team prepare for this and many other successful meets.

Debbie Sasso goes to her locker after a meeting.

Tracey Miller seems to be deep in thought.

MODEL UNITED NATIONS

Every year students from Stone Mountain go to Georgia State to simulate a United Nations session through the Model U.N. program. Each member usually spends a few weeks preparing for the session by writing mock resolutions and international legislation. Each school at Model U.N. represents at least one country. Ms. Ifill is the sponsor of Model U.N.

Cam Ayer and John Hinton review the agenda for the U.N. session.

The Social Studies team was sponsored by Mr. Perotta. The team's main purpose was to participate in quiz bowls that deal with social studies. They met every Wednesday to practice for competition, work with computers, and discuss current events. Their main goal was to beat the other schools and possibly go to county.

VIDEO YEARBOOK

First Row: Luis Rodriguez, Tim Turner, Brady Catron. Second Row: Brooke Brower, Frances Burgos, Mrs. Myers.

The Video Yearbook is new this year to SMH. The Varsity Video Co. offered this idea to SMH and they are in charge of editing it, taking various candid, and supplying the video with current music. There is no cost to the school, but they charge $35 per yearbook to the students that purchase them. The staff is in charge of doing photography, selecting the music, and keeping track of the various events during the year. This year the staff was small, but Mrs. Myers, the sponsor, hopes that the size of the staff will grow with the increase in popularity of the video yearbook. This is an idea that is definitely "with the times".

SPIRIT WEEK

The 1987 Spirit Week kicked off Tuesday with an old school tradition: College day. The variety of college paraphernalia ranged from Alabama to Yale. SMH students resembled characters from "Happy Days" Wednesday, which was Fifties day. Thursday, vivid colors blinded the eye as a myriad of students sauntered around school in psychedelic tie-dye shirts. The end of the week instilled enthusiasm in everyone, and Red and White day was a complete success. The students could also show their spirit all week by purchasing red, white, or black balloons from the Varsity Cheerleading squad.

PEP RALLY

The Homecoming Pep Rally was a special time for everyone to let their Pirate spirit show. It began with the introduction of the 1987 Homecoming Court. First, the Underclass members of the Court were escorted into the gym; they were followed by the five senior candidates for Homecoming Queen.

Students weren't the only ones to let loose at the pep assembly. The teachers held the spotlight during their annual skit. They entered the gym dressed as raisins, dancing to the sound of "I Heard it Through the Grapevine." They sang the song using their own lyrics, composed about Homecoming, in place of the original ones.

1987

The Homecoming parade this year showed everyone's support of their class. Each class presented a float for the competition and the winner, the senior class, was announced at the football game Saturday night. The parade started at Stone Mountain II and wound through the town of Stone Mountain to conclude back at SMH II. Miss SMH of 1987, the 1986 homecoming queen, and the 1987 homecoming court all participated in the parade, also. The Grand Marshall "MA" Goddard, was one of the leaders of the parade. At the conclusion of the parade, everyone involved trooped over to SMH for the B-B-Q sponsored by the junior class. The students had their fill and then went down to the baseball field for the bonfire. As the student body rendered an enthusiastic version of the Alma Mater, school spirit was in full swing. The band "Felony" provided the entertainment for the evening, and when the night ended, everyone drifted home with a feeling of contentment, and pride was abound in every heart.

The band performs awesomely in the parade.

1987

The 1987 Homecoming Dance was held Friday night, before the game, an unusual event at Stone Mountain High School. The band for the evening was "Ambush" and they accomodated the couples by playing many slow songs for dancing. The dance lasted from 8:30 to 11:30 and admission was $10.00/couple. Although those who attended the dance were impressed with the efficiency of the photographers and the decorations of the commons, many were disappointed with the band. Sue Sanders, a senior, remarked, "The decorations were good but the band could have been better." The decorations mentioned showed the junior class had school spirit in that they were our own school colors: red, white, silver, and black. The junior class also sold drinks at the dance to quench the thirst of the tired dancers. Parents volunteered to chaperone the dance, and reported that a popular complaint was the lack of somewhere to put purses and coats. The junior class reported that the profit from the dance was very good, and things are looking good for prom.

Angie Garner and Tara Garner are surprised that so many people are dancing.

Michelle Noble and Chris Frederick admire the spirited decorations.

1987

And the winner is . . . " this phrase was the introduction for the 1987 Homecoming Queen, as in years past. Senior Chris Frederick was crowned Homecoming Queen, and senior Trandy Greiner was first runner-up. Five seniors and two girls from each other class were voted onto the 1987 Homecoming Court by their classes, and the entire student body voted in the election of the Homecoming Queen. The crowd seemed quite happy with their choice; they chanted Chris' name before the final announcement was made, though she herself seemed shocked. This year's court experience will be a memory to treasure for every girl involved.

LANGUAGE FESTIVAL '87

This year's Language Festival was held in November instead of in October, as it usually is. With this change, however, it still remained popular with students and many of the old favorites were still there. Among the most popular were the pie-throw, sponsored by the Latin club, and the celebrity sponge throw, sponsored by the French club. All the Foreign language clubs featured foods from that country's culture. With the participation of the clubs and student body, this year's Language Fest turned out to be an enjoyable night for everyone.

JUNIOR-SENIOR

Prom is one of the most memorable times of a person's high school career. The dance, which is given by the Junior class as a farewell party for the Seniors, is planned far in advance. The Class of '88 Class Council met over the summer to find a ballroom and begin planning the food for the affair.

Most students are not aware of the work involved in planning the prom, but they know how to enjoy it! Girls generally choose their dresses far in advance and their escorts acquire a matching tuxedo.

Prom '87 was held at Colony Square. Friends and couples let themselves loose to the sound of "Silent Cry." Seniors enjoyed the spotlight during the Senior Walk, while underclassmen enjoyed the vast display of food. When the dance ended, party-goers flooded the seventh and eleventh floors of the Colony Square Hotel because these floors were reserved for after-prom parties. Indeed, Prom '87 was a dazzling evening not to be forgotten.

Prom is an exciting and emotional time for everyone.

Jennifer Barfield begins her reign as Miss SMH 1987.

Miss SMH 1987

Many long hours of practice and preparation went into the making of the 1987 Miss SMH pageant. Besides learning their individual routines for the talent competition, the contestants also had to learn the opening number routine and make such big decisions as choosing the right gowns and costumes.

A great amount of decision-making is involved in the pageant itself. There is a panel of judges who not only choose the new Miss SMH, but also the first, second, and third runners-up, and the Most Talented. However, the contestants themselves, not the judges, pick the Most Congenial.

In the 1987 pageant, Amy Brooks, Tammy Austin, and Marla Albitz won first, second, and third runners-up, respectively. The title of Most Talented was awarded to Gretchen Wohllust, and there was a tie between Amy Brooks and Kina Alarcon for Most Congenial. Jennifer Barfield was crowned Miss SMH 1987 by Kim Sanders, Miss SMH 1986.

POWDER PUFF '87

This year's Powder Puff Football Game was played on Friday the 13th. The day proved to be an unlucky one for the juniors' team. The seniors, after numerous setbacks, pulled through and won the game eight to six. In the weeks before the game, though, both teams practiced long and hard under the guidance of their coaches. The senior coaches were David Schweffler, Chris Corkery, Dennis Bogumill, Eddie Travelstead, Mark Gilreath, Tony Eberhardt, and David Bery. The coaches on the juniors' side of the field were Brian Orr, Mark Buffington, Mike Jones, and Zon Stine. The game was riddled with penalty calls, most against the seniors. The referees were Coach Rumble, Coach Flowe, Coach Parker, and Dr. Lionberger. Though the game was played rather roughly, it was an enjoyable afternoon for everyone involved.

Michelle Noble and Aimee Theisen were valuable assets to the senior offense.

MORP DANCE RETURNS..

Stone Mountain High's second Morp dance was held this year for students who enjoy dances less formal than Morp's opposite: Prom. It was held in the Commons, which served as a good informal atmosphere. Attire ranged anywhere from jeans and tee shirts to dresses and sports coats. The music at Morp consisted basically of Rap and Pop music, which was played by a disc-jockey. The dance was sponsored by Student Council and proved to be a big success.

PLAYS . . .

The Drama Club this year performed two plays. Agnes of God was a one-act play presented in October at SMHS. Agnes of God won best play for the 7AAAA Region competition. Agnes of God also received standing ovations, the ultimate compliment for an actor.

Arsenic and Old Lace finished off the year for the Drama Club. A student-directed play has been a tradition at SMHS, and this year the chore went to Sheri Boritz. Arsenic and Old Lace's cast did have to put up with a lot of technical glitches, which included, but were not limited to, practicing in the Commons, one of the main actor's moving away in November, and the Stairs of Doom, which nearly ended actors' careers and their internal organs.

As part of the Arsenic and Old Lace set was recycled from the Agnes of God scenery, set construction was not a pretty sight: seven inch pieces of wood that wouldn't fit, those pesky pricetags, and the difficulty of plugging in an electric appliance.

BUT THE SHOW WENT ON!!!!

STAR STUDENT

Every year the student with the highest combined SAT score is honored by being named the Star Student. This year that student is Mark Marcum. Traditionally, the Star Student chooses one of the teachers they have had over the years as their Star Teacher, and Mark has chosen Mrs. Beverly Cole, his tenth grade English teacher. Mark commented that he was sure that his English class with Mrs. Cole helped him achieve his high score of 1480 on the SAT.

Mrs. Cole is pleased to be given the honor of being chosen Star Teacher.

As soon as school began for the year, new freshmen started to realize that they needed to get serious about school. In the past, these students experienced a relatively worry-free academic life, and many were careless about their study habits. With the start of high school, however, grades really begin to count for or against students, depending on whether they are good or bad grades.

High school teachers expect much more from students than lower grade teachers, and the students began to realize that it might take a lot of time and hard work to meet these expectations. Freshmen also started to work harder for good grades because now that they are actually in high school they have something to look forward to: graduation. They know that in order to graduate, they must pass all of the required classes. Those intending to go on to college realize that it is good grades, not luck, that assures entrance into the college of their choice, and, later on, the career of their choice.

Freshmen intently watch the proceedings of the pep rally.

When the Freshman class of 1991 finally arrived at Stone Mountain High they didn't know whether they wanted to stay or run back to something familiar: SMH II. Many of the Freshmen wanted to stay at SMH for several reasons. At a larger school they have the opportunity to meet many new people of different ages, they can participate in the pep rallies, and at SMH they don't feel as isolated as they did at SMH II. On the other hand, some Freshmen wanted to return to SMH II. One reason is that at SMH II they can sit in class and occasionally glance out the windows. Obviously, they are unable to do that at SMH. Also, SMH II is much less crowded than SMH. Even though there are differing opinions about SMH and SMH II, one thing is clear: whether upper-or under-classmen, all SMH students have awesome Pirate Spirit.

Every Fall sophomores at Stone Mountain High School are required to take the Basic Skills Test. They must pass the test in order to graduate from high school. The Basic Skills Test consists of a wide array of questions ranging from elementary to high school level.

In the past the Basic Skills Test was completely standardized, but now it contains a new part: essay writing. On the first morning of the test the sophomores were given a topic on which to write a five-paragraph essay. The essays were graded in several areas, including clarity and completeness. Over the next couple of days the standardized portion of the Basic Skills Test, which included questions over math and English, was taken.

Getting a learner's permit is a very important step for a sophomore. Soon they reach that point where they will have the freedom to go where they want and when they want. Many sophomores choose to take Driver's Education before getting their licenses. There are some very good advantages in taking the class. For example, it lowers your insurance rates. Also, your instructors are impartial and easier to learn from than parents often are. All in all, taking Driver's Education is beneficial to every sophomore learning how to drive.

Every year the Junior class works hard organizing the decorations, food, and music for the prom. In addition to paying their class dues, juniors are responsible for such prom fundraisers as the Homecoming Barbeque and Dance, car washes, and bake sales in order to raise enough money. Work starts as early as the preceding summer because many decisions must be made as soon as possible, such as the theme and the place where the prom is to be held. Every junior who takes an active part in planning the dance does his or her best to make the correct choices so that their prom will truly be an occasion to remember.

Juniors sometimes feel very "needy". They need money to buy clothes so they can be in style. They need money to buy cars, pay car insurance, and buy gas. They also need money for entertainment. The key word in all of these needs is money. There is only one solution: employment.

Being a working student has its good side, but there are drawbacks. You have to work late hours on school nights, which makes it difficult to do homework. You have to work weekend nights and miss out on important social activities. The perfect job is the one that will allow you to keep up your grades and have a social life.

Seniors Select Dedication

This year's Senior class voted to dedicate the 1988 Corsair to Ms. Madaline Ifill. As well as being a senior class sponsor, she is also the sponsor for Model United Nations and Close-Up. Ms. Ifill has been a teacher at SMH for ten years. She has taught almost all the seniors during their years at SMH. Ms. Ifill has a very special place in the hearts of the entire senior class. We love you, Ms. Ifill.

Sammy King and Brandon Haynie share a laugh with Ms. Ifill. Miss Ifill discusses the high points of U.S. History with her excited class. Ms. Ifill's smiling face brightens every day.

Most Likely To Succeed

Michelle Noble and Dean Burnham

Succeed: v. 2. To accomplish something desired or intended.

— The American Heritage Dictionary
Of The English Language

Dean is currently the senior class president and Michelle is the vice-president of Student Council. Dean is hoping to climb the executive ladder, and Michelle is aspiring to write for a major newspaper.

Senior Cotillion

The 1988 Senior Cotillion took place at the Lakeside Center of Stone Mountain Park on February 6. The music of "The Tempted" had Seniors on their feet from 8 p.m. until midnight, and even though the music faded, the revelry didn't. The excitement of the "practice Prom" lasted until the wee hours for most. The Senior Cotillion has evolved into a time of reflection on the passing of years and anticipation of times to come — you might say the best of times and the worst of times. But for the night the Class of '88 forgot the worst and enjoyed one of their last chances to be together and yet alone.

1. Cam Ayer, Geoff Evans, Chuck Spinks, and Ricky Carswell enjoy seeing their friend, Mike Ostack, fly through the air.
2. Julia Magnuson enjoys her escort's James Brown imitation.
3. These Senior girls are "Tempted" to shake the roof off at the Lakeside Center.
4. Dennis Bogumill enjoys the sounds of "The Tempted."

your guide. Love,
Mother and Dad,
Grandpa, and brothers.

Tammy Austin

Color your world
with rainbows and always remember "The-das". I love you, Mom.

Robyn Reardon

Robyn — Always love life as much as you love horses and know that we love you very much. We are proud of all your accomplishments. All our love, Mother, Dad, and Cathy.

Darren Eastall

Darren, you are as precious on your last day of school as you were on your first day.
May you find happiness, love, and contentment throughout your life — because
"You Light Up My Life." Love Mom, Michele and Laura.

Michelle Noble

Congratulations! We love you and we're proud of you. Love,
Mom and Jennifer.

Laura Howell

To Laura — who made the most of life as a second "only child". We love you!
Mom, Dad, and Rhonda.

Aimee and Allison
Theisen

Dear Aimee and Allie, You are our greatest joy and blessing.
We are truly rich because of you. May the Lord forever bless and keep you in the palm of his hand. Remember, we will always be there for you. WE LOVE YOU SO MUCH!
Mom and Dad.

Stephanie Johnson

Congratulations!
Thanks for being you.
We love you. Mom,
Dad, and Melanie.

Natalie Hickes

Even back when this picture was taken you were ready to graduate from high school.
The day has finally arrived and we wish you love, success, and happiness. Hold on to your dreams. Love,
Mom, Dad, Cassandra
and Eric.

Marvin Kolin II

If you receive just a small part of the happiness that you have given us these past years, your future will be wonderful. Love,
Mom and Dad.

Larry Armstrong

Best of luck, health, and happiness in the future years of your life, and may God always hold you in the palm of his hand. Congratulations! We're proud of you. Love,
Mom, Julie, and Grandma.

Wendy Hamby

Wendy — This being your senior year —
brings back such special thoughts and cherished memories, of what it's always meant to have a daughter and sister like you — for who you are, for the things you do, for just being
you. Happiness always, Mom, Dad,
Sandy and Rusty.

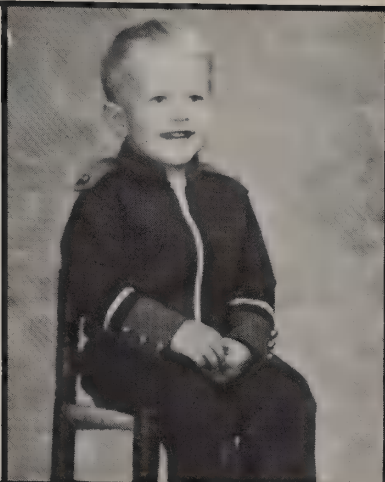

Leslie Marbut

With all your talents,
we hope you will use
one to help bring you happiness, health and success! Best of luck in college. We love you very much! Mom and Dad.

Paul Trail

Dear Paul — We've traveled a lot of miles together. I'll cherish all the times we've known. The best of everything in your future. Look out world! Here he comes! Love, Mom.

Blaine Byers

To Blaine, You have always made me very proud. May success and happiness always be a part of your life, and may all your dreams come true. With love, Mom.

Jennifer Melton

Another graduation! May this be the stepping stone to everything you desire of life. We are very proud of you. Congratulations! We love you. Mom and Dad.

Billy Barry

Set your goals high and you will go far — Be true to yourself and keep God in your heart. You are a very special son and always will be. I love you — Mom.

Brent Fisher

Congratulations, Brent. You've made us very proud. Wishing you much success. We believe in you. Love, Mom and Dad.

Class Of '88

Gretchen Leigh Wohlst

We have been blessed to have you in our lives. Always remember we think you're something special and we love you. Mom, Dad, Kelly, Kristin, and Wendy.

Kate Robinson

P.K., We love you and are very proud of you. We know that you will succeed in whatever you set your goals to be. Mom and Dad and all of the Family.

Alan Collins

Remember to set your goals higher than you think you can achieve and seek the Lord for guidance. We love you the way you are. Thanks for all the joy. Love Mom, Dad, Pat, and Jim.

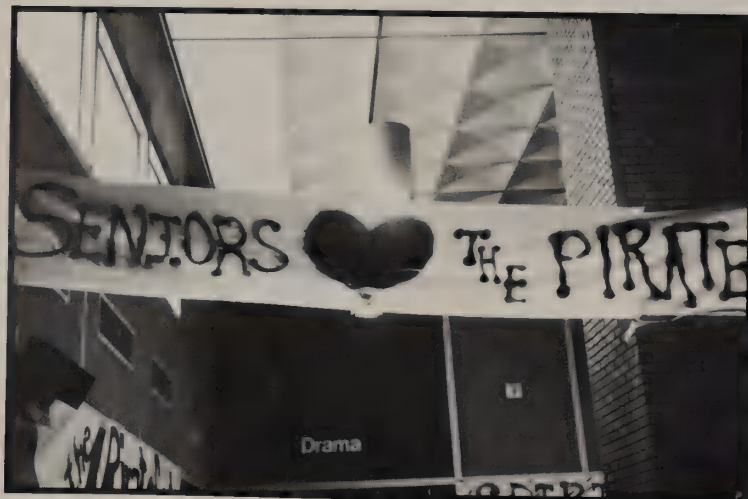

Michael Robinson

You were the cutest "coolest" guy in your kindergarten class. You are still a snappy dresser! We love you lots and know that your future will be bright. Just keep that winning smile. Mom, Dad and Katie.

Mary Beth Norbury

God was having an especially good day when he created you. Love, Mom and Dad.

Cathy Wynne

As innocence of youth matures into wisdom of experience, and storms of growth mellow into inner peace, you'll find your acre of Diamonds was never out of reach. Congratulations! Love, Mom and Dad.

Tonya M. Stoe

We are very proud of you. You have been a joy in our lives and you are a very loving daughter. Good luck in your future, and if you need us we'll always be there. Love, Mom and Dad.

Tonya Stoe

You are a very beautiful person with a lot to offer this world. Don't ever settle for second best! I'm very proud of you and I love you dearly. Love as always, your sister Robin.

Kathryn Davis

Our smiling girl has grown up. Keep smiling. May all your dreams come true, Mom and Dad.

Christopher (Cricket) Waddy

Congratulations, we are all very proud of you. Good luck with whatever you do. Mom, Dad, Bert, Marcella, Michael and Shawn.

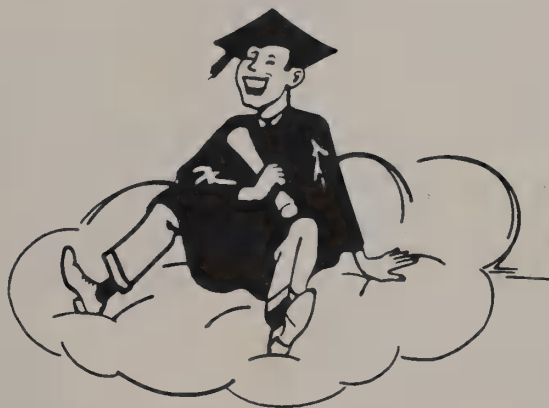

Garry Day

Garry, you know how much we all love you and how proud we are. You possess the qualities to succeed in life. Love, Mom, Dad and Family.

Scott Stavron

Thanks, Scott, for all the good times and happiness you have brought into our lives. May you sail through life with the greatest of ease. God bless you and be with you always. Love Mom, Dad, and all six of your sisters.

Shannon Suchke

God loves you and so do I. Congratulations! Your friend, Mom.

Jeff Wagner

We are proud to have you as a son and brother. Thank you for being you — a cheerful, good-natured pest. We love you. Mom and Anthony.

Marc Alexander

Marc, your college years should be even more fruitful than your high school days. We know your future will open many doors and your dreams will be fulfilled. Reach for the sky and don't settle for less. Congratulations and best of luck at college. We know you'll knock 'em dead! We love you. Mom, Dad, and Hope.

Eddie Travelstead

You always made every dream we wished for you come true. Now, believe in your own dreams and they will come true for you. Congratulations and we love you. Mom, Dad and Michael

Christy Little

Christy, you can achieve anything you really desire. Just remember we all love you and want the best for you. Love, Mama, Daddy, Allen and Libby.

Brett Patterson

We are and always have been proud of you. We wish for you happiness, love and peace. Mom and Dad.

Elisabeth Rocco

Keep that "cheer"-ful smile! We wish you a future filled with happiness and success. Remember, there are four people who love you and who will always be there for you. Mom, Dad, Michael and Mark James.

Katrina Slagle

Congratulations! We are very proud of you. Good luck in everything you do. We wish you happiness always. Love, Mom, Dad and Karl.

Matt Lipham

Congratulations Matt, we are super proud of you. Let your perseverance be your guide to becoming what ever you want to be. Always remember we love you. Mom and Dad.

Darren Nowell

With memories of all you've been, with pride for all you are, with hope for all you'll be . . . and with love and prayers for always. Mom, Dad, and Ken.

Melanie McRae

Melanie — you are a joy and a delight. Continue to pursue your dreams. You can do it. I am very proud of you. Congratulations. Love, Mom.

Jennifer Flowers

Jennifer, we're proud of you and we love you for many reasons but mainly because you're you! We wish you all the best because you deserve it. Good luck and God's nearness. Mom and Dad.

Andy Jordan

We love you, Andy, because of who you are and who you will be. Put your hand in the hand of the Lord, and it will be better than a known way. Love, Mom and Dad.

Jennifer Ward

Congratulations to a very special daughter. You have come a long way and we are very proud of you. May the future bring you much happiness. Love, Mom and Dad.

June 15,
1988

Tony Eberhardt

"You've come a long way baby." Congratulations and good luck. With love, Mother and Dad.

1987 has been a year filled with scandal and intrigue. Gary Hart foolishly told the press to follow him. In his own words "I dare you." As a result, his alleged affair with Donna Rice was discovered. On the other hand, Joseph Biden said in several other people's words that he had high hopes of becoming the next president. The major scandal in the political world this year was, however, Irangate. Oliver North and his dedicated secretary, Fawn Hall, took center stage at the hearings this summer.

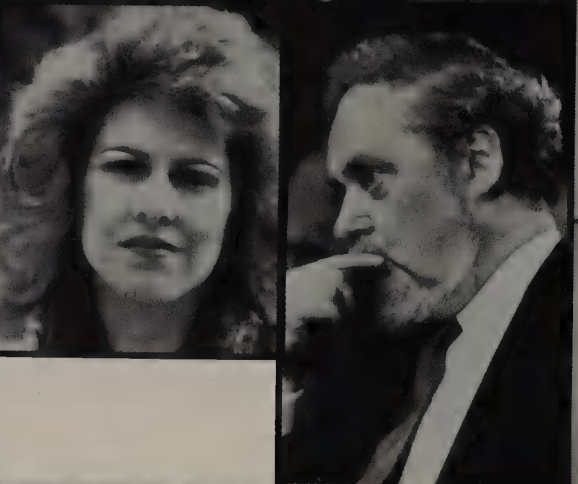

Jim Bakker and PTL were involved in a sex scandal, too. The public wondered if Jim really chose Jessica Hahn over his newsworthy wife, Tammy Faye.

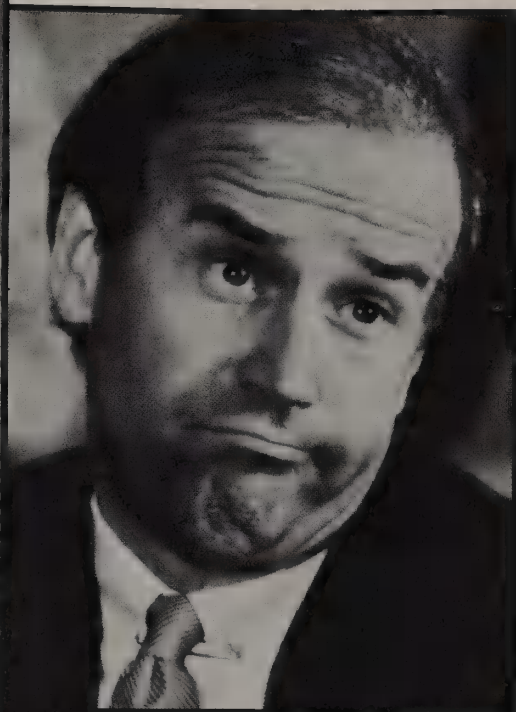

Several highly publicized visits occurred in 1987. Both Pope John Paul II and Premier Mikhail Gorbachev of the Soviet Union came to the United States amidst crowds of reporters, to promote good-will and peace. On the other hand, the U.S. involvement in the Persian Gulf was a sobering example of the need for more efforts like those of the Pope and Premier Gorbachev.

The AIDS epidemic also spread in 1987, and a second strain of the disease was discovered. Another sort of "epidemic" in 1987 was the outbreak of pit bull attacks. Eventually a law holding the owners of the dogs responsible was passed.

Some classic actors and actresses made their final bow this year. Old film buffs will no doubt mourn the loss of Fred Astaire and Rita Hayworth. Other favorites were Jackie Gleason and the Scarecrow from The Wizard of Oz, Ray Bolger. Music fans paid tribute to one of the greats, Liberace, who died after contracting AIDS.

All in all, 1987 was filled with success and failure, scandal and discovery, tragedy and triumph.

Nature's first green is gold,
Her hardest hue to hold.
Her early leaf's a flower;
But only so an hour.
Then leaf subsides to leaf.
So Eden sank to grief,
So dawn goes down to day.
Nothing gold can stay.

* Cilly is not like silly as you would call you hop. It's a term of affection,
because you are so endearing or "illy".

Cheri,
Hey! this year's been fun, exciting, thrilling, etc. Hopefully next year will be better see ya this summer!

Tara

But seriously, Chen, you are such a sweet friend. I would have died if freedom in Geometry if you hadn't been in my class this quarter. As my desk-mate!
Everyday, it always cheered me up & I always said "Ok my girl." That was so hilarious I remember you saying "be quiet girls." I will always remember you saying "Ok my girl." I will always remember you said that "Ok my girl." I will always remember you SAT, I'm glad I got to take it with you. I can't wait to get our scores back. (469 992? My phone #)
- FUTURESCOPE - at La Tech was super and boring, but I'm glad I went anyway. Have a great summer & a WHOOPS! I think I'm taking up too much room, so I'd better stop writing. Bye always, hope that you're in my Alpha II class next year!

P.S. Call me & we'll do something fun
this summer!

P.S.S. Thanks for a beautiful friend!

Hey Blondie,
This has been another incredible year. (Tell me when you figure out what that means) Have a great summer. See you next year!

Cheri,
Another year gone by. Soon we'll be seniors. I hope you'll be able to join jazz band, I don't feel like being the only girl. Have a Great summer.
See ya
next year!

BLONDIE -

HEY! THIS HAS BEEN A REAL YEAR!

MAYBE NEXT YEAR
WILL BE REALLER

(stupid, I know) HAVE A GREAT SUMMER,

SEE YOU NEXT YEAR,

THIS IS TO

REMEMBER
